

VOL. III, NO. 275.

Forecast—Continued Valid.
Yesterday's Temp.—Mar. 28, Min. 10 below

EDMONTON, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19, 1913.

TEN PAGES TODAY

PRICE FIVE CENTS

BRITISH ROYALTY MOURNS DEATH OF NEAR RELATIVE IN MURDER OF KING GEORGE OF GREECE

SMOOTHER
SESSION
AT OTTAWANaval Debate Dropped for Time
And House Now Passing
Supplementary EstimatesANOTHER SHARP ROW
AT EVENING SESSIONIs Intention Says Rogers of Building Extension to Parliament
Buildings

Special to the Bulletin.

Ottawa, March 18.—Parliament spent another day discussing the supplementary estimates of the current year. There was a slight break in the session when the Canadian diehard endeavored to rule out Mr. Pugley out of order on discussion of the estimates. Hon. Mr. Moore was of the opinion that the matter was being considered, said that he did not object to the full liberty of discussion and motion was carried.

At the opening of the session, Hon. H. R. Emerson moved to consider the action of the speaker in taking the chair during the debate on finance. The speaker ruled that the motion was not in order, as presented. It was then moved that the bill be referred to bring the matter up in another hour. The estimates aggregate something over five millions and it has been agreed that they shall be referred to the house again for the Easter recess.

Everything went on smoothly until the evening session when the row started between Mr. Middleton who was presiding over the committee, ruling that Mr. Pugley should confine his remarks to the item under discussion. The opposition protested and Hon. Rodger Lemire moved that the debate on the bill was being caused in the house because of the absence from the chair of Mr. C. H. Ross.

A little later Hon. W. T. White twisted Mr. Pugley with having been cross on Saturday night.

Mr. Pugley's "cross" was not the word to use. He was made clear through because a prearranged attack was made to violate the rules of the house.

There was much discussion in regard to pugnacious Mr. Middleton's action. Mr. Ross, who was also in the Conservative patronage committee in St. John's, was interested in dredging contracts and the opposition said that was true only insofar as one man

(Continued on Page Two.)

British House May Hand Out
Rebuff to the Borden Policy

Canadian Associated Press.

London, Mar. 18.—The Canadian Associated Press is informed that a Liberal resolution, which will be submitted on Wednesday, when the House goes into committee of supply on the naval estimates, will take the following form:

"That this House, while cordially welcoming and appreciating the generous desire expressed by His Majesty's dominions beyond the seas to cooperate with the mother country in providing for the naval defence of the Empire, is of the opinion that no steps ought to be taken by His Majesty's ministers either to recommend or accept any scheme for the carrying out of such co-operation until the matter has been definitely submitted this House."

Although the resolution was presented in the name of E. P. Morell, the Liberal member for British Columbia, it has been suggested, in view of the fact that the resolution, in fact, represents the sentiments of a large and influential group of Liberal members, who think that the policy of uniting, as proposed by Premier Borden, instead of uniting and securing a loyal Canada, will rather lead to disunion and disintegration and will also raise the question of representation, which a great many of them are not yet prepared to accept.

DR. CAMPBELL IS CHOSEN
BY PONOKA CONVENTIONSitting Member Is Unanimous
Choice of Largest Attended Convention. The Returnees from the Coming Provincial Election.

Special to the Bulletin.

Ponoka, March 18.—The Liberal convention for Ponoka constituency was held in the town hall, Ponoka, today, and in the face of the rough weather and the fact that there was no other attraction out of the ordinary, it was the largest turnout ever seen in the history of the riding.

Dr. Campbell was the enthusiastic choice of the convention. Delegates were present from every part of the riding, and the first meeting was presided over by T. D. Idington, of Rimby.

After the meeting had passed before the ballot, expressing confidence in the policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier who was the only member of the party in the riding during the past four years.

The expression of regret and sympathy is also being sent to the family of the late Hon. Malcolm MacKenzie, who died in the early part of the week. Dr. Campbell voted six votes; Mr. George Edwards one; and Dr. Campbell forty-six.

Mr. Edwards did not wish to be present at the convention, but he also withdrew and Dr. Campbell amid much enthusiasm was declared the nominee of the convention.

Dr. Campbell and W. G. Houston went to Canadian Legion hall for the meeting of the Shriners being held there.

(Continued on Page Two.)

LEGISLATURE SITS UNTIL
TWO O'CLOCK THIS MORNINGThree Sittings Yesterday and Much Business Is Put Through Mill—House Goes Into Committee of Supply and Large Part of Estimates Put Through Before

Adjournment.

The sitting of the legislature which opened at ten o'clock yesterday morning did not conclude until five minutes after two o'clock this morning, the session being adjourned for one day over sixteen hours.

The debate on the budget was got through in the shortest possible time, the side of business in the debate yesterday were the Hon. C. R. Mitchell, Mr. Bramley Moore and J. L. Cole, Athabasca.

Harold Riley, Dr. Stewart and John Kennedy of Pincher Creek were the only members to speak on the budget.

Hon. C. R. Mitchell delivered a speech on the estimates, showing the method of the estimates, for which the estimates called, and replying to the opposition's speech about the method of condensing the estimates.

The motions to delay were lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

The motion to delay was lost and the house approved of the estimates under the following headings:

FAVORITE BROTHER OF QUEEN ALEXANDRA

(Continued From Page One)

devotion to your new sovereign, King Constantine.

Crown Prince Constantine, who succeeds King George, is at present at Jasmin, and is expected to come here with all speed.

An Evil Looking Fellow.

The report of the king's arrival with his fellow, about 40 years of age, upon being arrested he refused to explain his motive for the crime, but declared he was named Alex Schinias, and, in reply to an officer who asked him whether he had no objection to his name, he said that it was against all governments.

Schinias maintained a perfect silence, but his conduct was suggestive of his being irresponsible for his actions.

Notwithstanding the rapidity with which the king received attention when he was found to be dead on arrival at the frontiers, the Greeks were at once taken through the streets in perfect order is being maintained.

The king fell into the arms of his aide de camp, who took him to safety, and helped to support him. He was placed in a carriage, and, after a short respite, the bleeding, but he breathed his last on the way to the hospital, never regaining consciousness. The officers to swear fealty to Constantine, they shouted: "Long live the king."

Prince Nicholas is the only member of the royal family in Salomiki. Mourning emblems are displayed everywhere.

The Greek governor has issued a proclamation announcing that the oath of fealty to King Constantine has been taken.

King Took a Ride.

Since the triumphal entry into Salomiki, the king had been accustomed to take an afternoon walk to the famous horse racing track and the barracks in Lesser Karakhan. The king's confidence in the people was so great that he went about unaccompanied by any guard or escort.

The danger of this custom was apparent to the members of his entourage, who, on the advice of the king, requested His Majesty to permit the presence of civil guards.

A number of gendarmes were ordered to follow the king, but their presence was considered an obstruction to his pleasure. The number was reduced to two.

The effect of this association in Salomiki was impressive. Groups of grief-stricken people gathered in the streets and conversed in muffled tones. The barracks, the barracks, the shops and cafes were closed; the street cars suspended service. The atmosphere of grief in Salomiki tonight has a dead and deserted appearance. The church bells tolling echoed along the deserted streets.

DESCRIPTION OF THE SHOOTING

London, March 13.—A Salomiki delegation to the Tigran granary, described as the "King's Tomb," was shot.

The king was shot while returning with his escort from a walk at the White tower. He was in a hurry and composed himself as best he could, even along talked of the war, of the success of the Greek arms, of the capture of Samos, and of the fall of the Ottoman empire to his fifty year reign.

"The war?" said the king, "when my father was in the field he fought death (the German battle ship which is to honor the Greek king here in Salomiki) which has me with happiness and contentment."

ASSASSIN SHOT THE KING THROUGH HEART

These proved to be the monarch's last words, for at that moment a shot was heard from the bushes. The side sprang around and seized the hand of the assassin, who was armed with a pistol for a second and shot. Covering his royal master with his body, he seized the assassin by the throat and held him fast until passing out of the world.

"But the first shot had found his judgment. King George had already made his escape, and had run into a carriage end, with his head resting on his arm, continued to drive on. The assassin, however, the hospital was reached the king was exhausted.

The bullet was fired at a distance of two paces, entered the back below the shoulder blades. Its point of exit was below the stomach. There was a heavy gash in the flesh, a deep gash from which the king always wore was covered with blood.

The king was a man of Greek of Zebele. He says he was driven to desperation by sickness and want. The crime therefore appears to be without motive.

ASCENDS THRONE AT HEIGHT OF POPULARITY

London, March 13.—Crown Prince Constantine comes to the throne of Greece at the very height of his popularity. His accession is the result of battle in Macedonia, and which the capture of Jasmin raised to the highest point.

It was not always thus. He suffered with the other members of the royal family in the fallen kingdom of Greek arms in the Turkish war of 1897, and when at the conclusion of that war an act was passed dividing the possessions of the in-chief and conferring it on Constantine, the bitterest opposition was aroused.

A flight of cowards during the Turkish war were made against him, and it was even thought possible that when he went a short time afterwards to the Turkish capital he would not return to Greece. But like his father, when education and training had been turned in time to more than restored his popularity with the people.

In the Popular.

His reported triumph during the present war have created the widest enthusiasm with him, and only a few days ago he announced that the equestrian statue would be erected in his honor in the capital.

The new queen, who was Princess Alice, after the departure of the Queen, and the name of Alice Schinias, and, in reply to an officer who asked him whether he had no objection to his name, he said that it was against all governments.

Schinias maintained a perfect silence, but his conduct was suggestive of his being irresponsible for his actions.

Notwithstanding the rapidity with which the king received attention when he was found to be dead on arrival at the frontiers, the Greeks were at once taken through the streets in perfect order is being maintained.

The king fell into the arms of his aide de camp, who took him to safety, and helped to support him.

He was placed in a carriage, and, after a short respite, the bleeding, but he breathed his last on the way to the hospital, never regaining consciousness.

The officers to swear fealty to Constantine, they shouted: "Long live the king."

Prince Nicholas is the only member of the royal family in Salomiki. Mourning emblems are displayed everywhere.

The Greek governor has issued a proclamation announcing that the oath of fealty to King Constantine has been taken.

King Took a Ride.

Since the triumphal entry into Salomiki, the king had been accustomed to take an afternoon walk to the famous horse racing track and the barracks in Lesser Karakhan. The king's confidence in the people was so great that he went about unaccompanied by any guard or escort.

The danger of this custom was apparent to the members of his entourage, who, on the advice of the king, requested His Majesty to permit the presence of civil guards.

A number of gendarmes were ordered to follow the king, but their presence was considered an obstruction to his pleasure. The number was reduced to two.

The effect of this association in Salomiki was impressive. Groups of grief-stricken people gathered in the streets and conversed in muffled tones. The barracks, the barracks, the shops and cafes were closed; the street cars suspended service. The atmosphere of grief in Salomiki tonight has a dead and deserted appearance. The church bells tolling echoed along the deserted streets.

(Continued From Page One)

gements in favor of such schemes as follows:

1.—"A street railway department would not teach free of charge, and in addition would have the expense of operation guaranteed for a certain amount. This would be the case of the city's administration, and if it is found that it is necessary to extend the street railway network, the city would be compelled to pay for the extension of the street railway department.

2.—"The expense of the tracks, in making the street railway open to the public, would be the same as for the street railway department.

3.—"The expense of the tracks, in making the street railway open to the public, would be the same as for the street railway department.

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words, it tends to retard development.

2.—"The providing of a street railway system, which is not in use at the time, is unwaranted, then the city is lending it aid, by the extension of its utility and making possible the use of the same for property."

4.—"The unnecessary extension of the street railway would interfere with the operation of an efficient street railway service in the older parts of the city.

For and Against.

These arguments are discussed at greater length, in detail, in the report of the street railway department, and the report says:

"They do not develop the city in a logical and economical manner, and other words,

